All attend

▶ Religion and Peacebuilding Theodora Hawksley CJ

This course explores popular and scholarly ideas about the connections between religion, violence and peacebuilding and choose one of these

▶ B1 Towards a New World Michael Smith SJ

We are getting more control over God's continuing creation, and so it's time to look at problems we face around the world, and how they are seen in Pope Francis' encyclical Laudato Si'.

▶ B2 Jesus' Passion for the Kingdom of God. David McLoughlin

We will explore the disturbing nature of Jesus' teaching of the alternative kingdom of God, how it clashed with other ideas of Kingdom at the time. And we'll reflect on how Jesus' teaching and practice remain a challenge to Church and State today.

▶ C1 Revisiting the Grounds of our Hope. David McLoughlin

Reflecting in the face of global warming and the ongoing destruction of life forms, we look for Hope today. It arises out of the life, death and resurrection of Jesus to enable us to live towards the future in joy and specifically face death with equanimity.

▶ C2 Being Saved . . . . Michael Smith SJ

Jesus Christ in his life, death and resurrection saved us all. We will look at his life and work in the New Testament, and see how redemption is continuing today.
